

CHICAGO MAN MAY BE NEW G.O.P. CHAIRMAN

CHAS. G. DAWES, PRESIDENT, CENTRAL TRUST CO., IS FAVORED BY HUGHES.

GRATEFUL TO SEN. SHERMAN

Nominee Feels Indebted to Illinois Candidate for Switching His Delegates.

Charles Gates Dawes, president of the Central Trust company of Chicago, is being considered for chairman of the republican national committee. There is no question that he can have the treasuryship of the committee if he wants it. The present tentative slate, however, carries Dawes for the chairmanship.

This was the big development yesterday in New York following the conference between Charles E. Hughes and the Crane committee.

While not definitely settled as yet, it is known that Hughes prefers a western man for chairman, since he and his close aids are all New York and New England men.

Graceful to Sherman.

Mr. Hughes also feels grateful to Senator Sherman for breaking the "favorite son" ranks and being first to declare for Hughes with the Illinois delegation, thereby settling the fight in the national convention.

Dawes has been Sherman's real backer in all his campaigns and there is now a pretty well defined feeling among republican leaders, it developed today, that Dawes is not only a capable man for the place, or the treasuryship at least, but that to select him would be a fitting recognition of Senator Sherman's big stroke in making Hughes' nomination certain on the third ballot.

DECISION FOR WAR OR PEACE IS UP TO CARRANZA; WARNING GIVEN OF GRAVE CONSEQUENCES

ADMINISTRATION CONTINUES ITS PREPARATION TO MEET ANY POSSIBLE EMERGENCY

AMERICANS LEAVE MEXICO CITY

Special Agent Rodgers Arranges For Special Train To Take Them Out.

(Associated Press)

Washington, June 20—The American note, flatly rejecting Carranza's demand for the withdrawal of the U. S. troops from Mexico and rebuking Carranza for the discourteous tone and temper of his last communication was handed to Eleiso Arrandondo, the Mexican Ambassador-Designate, today.

SPECIAL TRAIN WILL BRING AMERICANS TO U. S.

Special Agent Rodgers, who is at Mexico City, has notified the State department that he is arranging for a special train to take Americans and other foreigners from Mexico City to Vera Cruz. He will remain at his post. Many anti-American demonstrations, parades and mass meetings at the Mexican capital are reported, but there have been no open acts of violence.

There are 1200 Americans in Mexico City.

FUNSTON ASKS FOR GUARDSMEN AT ONCE

General Funston has requested the war department to send him as soon as possible a large part of the National Guardsmen to be stationed along the boundary from "Brownsville to the Pacific Coast." The exact number asked for has not been made public.

WILL PERMIT NO ARMS TO REACH MEXICO

The note serves notice that as long as the Carranza forces continue their present attitude, no arms, ammunition, or machinery for their manufacture will be permitted to reach Mexico from the United States.

MEXICAN GOVERNOR DENIES WAR DECLARATION

The governor of Yucatan today denied that Yucatan had declared a state of war between Mexico and the United States.

Washington, June 20—Full and complete authority to use the national guard as an offensive arm in the Mexican campaign was demanded of congress by President Wilson.

Both house and senate will pass a resolution placing the militia called into service under the absolute authority of the federal government for use within or beyond the territorial limits of the United States.

Secretary of War Baker placed before the legislative leaders of the Democratic majority in congress the wishes of the administration. He made it clear that the president demands a "clear title" to his authority over the 100,000 militiamen called into the federal service.

The war department feels that under the law there may be some question as to how far the administration may go in ordering the state troops outside of the boundaries of the country without congressional authorization.

Secretary Baker was assured by Representative Hay of Virginia, chairman of the house military affairs committee, that the required authority would be provided at once and arrangements were made for the presentation of a joint resolution.

SIXTH MAY GO

If every company in the Sixth Infantry, I. N. G., of which Co. G of this city is a part, can recruit its membership to 65 men within five days, the regiment will in all probability be called to service on the Mexican border.

Capt. E. L. Soper, returning from a conference with Colonel Davis at Moline Monday, brings the information that the chances of the regiment receiving a call to the colors were excellent if its membership is brought to the required standard.

Col. Davis issued the order to Company commanders after a long distance communication with Adjutant General Dickson, and recruiting activities have been started in every city which is represented in the Sixth. The call to the Colors of the local company appears elsewhere in this issue of the Telegraph.

BULLETIN

(Associated Press)

At daybreak when the demonstration ended the flag was still flying.

Brownsville, Tex., June 20—It is reported that a party of Americans at Cerralvo, Mexico, have been massacred, also that some Americans were taken from a train near Monterey and killed. So far as known only one American resided at Cerralvo.

MEXICAN DEMANDS ARE FLATLY REJECTED IN NOTE WHICH IS ON ITS WAY.

UNITED STATES WILL NOT RECED

s Determined to Maintain National Rights and Remove All Border Perils.

(Associated Press)

Washington, June 20—Wilson's firm refusal to withdraw American troops from Mexico is on its way to Carranza. In the meantime the administration is continuing preparations to meet any emergency. War or peace rests with Carranza.

REVIEWS OUTRAGES

AND DEMANDS ACTION

The long continued outrages perpetrated against Americans and their property both in Mexico and in the United States are reviewed, and warning is given that troops will be kept in Mexico until such a time as the de facto government performs a duty which the United States has not sought pursuing the bandits who ought to be arrested and punished by the Mexican government.

HINTS AT GRAVE CONSEQUENCES SOON

The note contains 6,000 words and concludes with the statement that if the de facto government continues to ignore this obligation and carries out its threat to defend its territory by an appeal to arms against the American troops, the gravest consequences will follow.

UNITED STATES WILL MAINTAIN ALL ITS RIGHTS

"While this government deeply regrets such a result," the communication says, "it can not recede from its settled determination to maintain its national rights in preventing the further invasion of the United States and in removing the peril which the Americans along the border have borne so long with patience."

"MEXICAN GOVERNMENT DOES NOT WANT JUSTICE."

"I am reluctant to be forced to the conclusion which might be drawn from the circumstances," Sec. Lansing declared this morning, "that the de facto government, in spite of the crimes which have been committed and the sinister design of Villa and his followers, did not, and does not now, intend or desire that these outlaws shall be captured, destroyed or dispersed by the American troops, or at the request of this government, by Mexican troops. If a denial is needed that this government has ulterior and improper motives in its diplomatic representations, or has countenanced activities of American sympathizers and press opposed to the de facto government I will gladly make

Colored People Start Campaign For Fund For Church Edifice

The colored people of this city who recently organized themselves into a Christian mission have started preparations for a church edifice. At a recent meeting it was decided to erect a building to cost not less than $1000 on a lot located on Madison avenue, near the corner of Sixth street, upon which they have an option. The lot is 100x100, costing $300. The pastor, Rev. E. H. Fletcher, admits that the task confronting him is a large one, but he is ready to pitch in for all the colored people who worship God in a congenial fellowship and where the children can attend Sunday school without embarrassment.

A committee was appointed at the last meeting of the mission for the purpose of soliciting money, payable within 30 days from June 13th. Aar. Rev. E. H. Fletcher are authorized to circulate the subscription paper. Rev. Fletcher will arrive here the last of this week and take active charge of the money-raising campaign and then the building shall be rushed to completion. He is no novice in church building, and his experience in other fields where he has had practically the same problems to face will be invaluable in this enterprise.

West Pocket Essays

By GEORGE FITCH

Kentucky is one of the warmest American states, climatically and physically. It is situated just south of the healthy repartee belt and is separated from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois by the Ohio river, which is often swum by minority delegates in Kentucky caucuses.

Kentucky is shaped like a suffragette shoe, and is of medium size, about a No. 9 on an E last. It was settled by Daniel Boone with the aid of a long rifle in 1769, and the Daniel Boone method of settlement is still piously maintained in most parts of the state in all important questions.

Kentucky is a wonderfully fertile region, and huge crops are raised whenever the inhabitants have time. The state is full of fast horses, beautiful women and red hot men. It hasn't much of a population, considering its size, but it could have had twice as much if the early Kentuckians had been water-jacketed and kept below a shooting temperature. Men will kill each other over politics in Tennessee and cards over in Texas, and as a recreation in Chicago, but in Kentucky crops, politics and family quarrels are all fatal. The result is that in some districts the Kentuckian who dies in bed with his boots off is sat upon by the coroner, who tries to find the reason.

Kentucky raises more tobacco than any other state, when the night rider doesn't ride. The night rider is a sort of human boll weevil which gets into the crops and ruins them with a hoe.

GENERAL GALLIENI

Report from Paris Says Savior of City Was Slain.

GALLIENI SLAIN BY TRAITOR

Army Officer of High Rank Said to Have Killed Savior of Paris.

New York, June 20.—The death of Gen. Joseph S. Gallieni, former minister of war of France, was due to a murderous attack by a French army officer of high rank under charges of treason, and not to natural causes, according to stories told here by passengers arriving on the French liner Lafayette. Gustave Heslout, an attaché of the French war office, here for the second time on a government mission, would neither affirm nor deny the tale.

General Gallieni's assailant was arrested, the Lafayette's passengers said, and his fate is unknown. He had been summoned before his chief, it is reported, to answer the charge of having negotiated with the Germans for the surrender of a fortress at Verdun.

CARRANZA SEEKS TO CALM THE POPULACE

Hopes to Arrange Difficulties with United States.

Mexico City, June 20.—General Carranza, addressing a mass meeting in front of his residence, urged the citizens to refrain from hostile acts against Americans and declared that he had hopes of arranging peaceably the difficulties between Mexico and the United States.

The first chief said in part: "This is no time for hasty action. I am trying to arrange our difficulties with the United States peacefully and have hopes of succeeding. I wish you to aid me."

"The encounter between American soldiers and Mexicans near Matamoros has been temporarily solved with the withdrawal of American troops from that region. The matter is now being taken up diplomatically. There was some trouble in Mazatlan caused by the intrusion of an American sailor and that has also been adjusted for the time being."

"Go to your homes and be good Mexicans, remembering also that I will do my utmost to preserve the dignity of the Mexican nation. If we are forced to resort to arms I will lead you in person."

Against Impeachment.

Washington, June 20.—A unanimous recommendation that no further proceedings be had at this time on Representative Buchanan's impeachment charges against U. S. Attorney H. Snowden Marshall of New York was submitted to the house judiciary committee by the investigating committee.

Illinois Wesleyan of Bloomington loses seven of the fastest football players, while six of the baseball players will not be back.

BLUEBIRD

Sialia sialis

Length, about six and one-half inches.

Range: Breeds in the United States (west to Arizona, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana), southern Canada, Mexico, and Guatemala; winters in the southern half of the eastern United States and south to Guatemala.

Habits and economic status: The bluebird is one of the most familiar tenants of the farm and dooryard. Everywhere it is hailed as the harbinger of spring, and wherever it chooses to reside it is sure of a warm welcome. This bird, like the robin, phoebe, house wren, and some swallows, is very domestic in its habits. Its favorite nesting sites are crannies in the farm buildings or boxes made for its use or natural cavities in old apple trees. For rent the bird pays amply by destroying insects, and it takes no toll from the farm crop. The bluebird's diet consists of 68 per cent of insects to 32 per cent of vegetable matter. The largest items of insect food are grasshoppers first and beetles next, while caterpillars stand third. All of these are harmful except a few of the beetles. The vegetable food consists chiefly of fruit pulp, only an insignificant portion of which is of cultivated varieties. Among wild fruits elderberries are the favorite. From the above it will be seen that the bluebird does no essential harm, but on the contrary eats many harmful and annoying insects.

How the French Invest

The French have long been known as the shrewdest investors in the world. In France people of small incomes buy a few shares of stock, or bonds, and pay for them in easy monthly installments.

Some time ago this plan was introduced in America and already over 30% of the Stock Exchange transactions are in "odd lots." This shows how safe and profitable people of small income find this method of saving and investment.

You may buy one share or more, and terms of payment may be arranged according to your income. Reliable information about any security provided by our Statistical Department.

Observe Flag Day

Beautiful and appropriate exercises were given last evening at G. A. R. hall by the Ladies of the G. A. R., Dixon Circle, No. 73, in their annual observance of Flag Day. The members of the Grand Army Post and the Sons of Veterans were guests. The program, which followed the order of the usual Flag Day service, was preceded by a short business session.

During the business session two sons of Veterans, Rev. C. H. Day, pastor of the Christian church, and Alexander Turner, were installed as honorary members of the circle. The visiting of Mrs. Mae Thompson, newly elected treasurer, into office also was accomplished.

The Flag Day program opened with the presentation of a handsome flag by Patriotic instructor Mrs. Marie Heller, who had charge of the program, to the president of the circle, Mrs. Emmogene Morris, who, in turn, in a neat presentation speech, gave the flag into the charge of Rev. E. C. Lumsden, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, for the use of the church. Dr. Lumsden expressed appreciation of the gift in behalf of the church in a brief talk.

The other members of the program were arranged as follows: Vocal Solo, Mrs. Harriet Edwards; Reading, Mrs. Lucy Rosorook; Reading, Miss Ellen Eaton; Talk on the Flag, Rev. C. H. Day.

Trombone Solo, William Worley; Miss Mary Ahrens, accompanist. Short talks by G. A. R. Post comrades.

Much of interest was contained in these talks by the veterans. Commander of the Post Johnson gave a spirited talk, as did L. W. Mitchell and S. S. Dodge. Mr. Dodge gave observations upon the customs used in honoring the flag, as noted in his travels. Another interesting talk was that given by Mrs. Mattie Boynton, member of the Veterans Home Circle from the Veterans' Home in Wisconsin, who spoke of "Veterans' Homes." Mrs. Boynton is from Milwaukee and is the guest of Mrs. Marie Heller.

Enjoyable refreshments were served by the ladies of the circle at the close of the program.

THE BANKRUPTCY LAW.

For some time past an effort has been made to do away with the national bankruptcy law.

There is no denying the fact that many men and women have taken advantage of the law to get through an easy "failure."

But it is also true that it has opened the way for many others to start in business again without having a load of debts piled upon their shoulders. Many who have had a new start in this way through voluntary bankruptcy have paid up their obligations in full.

Involuntary bankruptcy also has given many a creditor part of a debt where under the old law he would have lost all. If the national law were repealed men doing a big interstate credit business would be at the mercy of a variety of state laws. Credit would be narrowed and many worthy men would be denied.

The National Association of Credit Men is working against the repeal of the national bankruptcy law and Judge Charles M. Hough of the United States district court of New York has written a letter to the association in which he warmly commends their work.

Judge Hough wrote: "I think I am impartial about this matter of bankruptcy law or no bankruptcy law, because no one acquainted with the facts can doubt that from a selfish standpoint the life of any United States district judge would be more distinctly more agreeable and easy after a repeal of the bankruptcy statute. Yet I am, and always have been, much opposed to the abolition of a national insolvency system, and principally because I am old enough to look backward and know from personal experience what happens as a matter of course in a failing interstate business prior to 1898, and every business worthy of the name is now really interstate.

"It is human nature, and I think especially American human nature, to think that any change must be an improvement on existing evils, and the generation of business and professional men who are not familiar with what happened before bankruptcy, only see as an evil what is really the greatest merit of a bankruptcy system, namely, that a national system of bankruptcy brings into one 'pot' and into full sight the frauds and rascalities, great and petty, that always exist when men are trying to struggle through or get the better of financial hardships.

"Of course crookedness and wrongdoing have always existed and will last a great deal longer than any of us will, and it is a good thing to coagulate or centralize the rascality and the means of discovering and punishing it. It is no answer to this to say (what is largely true) that the law itself is defective and the administration thereof imperfect and even careless. The imperfections of the law must wait upon congress, and any experienced man would rather wait even on that single body than on forty-eight state legislatures."

MOBILIZING THE NATIONAL GUARD.

The mobilization of the national guard of the United States will be an advantageous action whether the services of that organization will be actually needed or not, for the guard must be fully equipped if it is to go into service and a summer's camp along the Mexican border with the training and experience that will result, such a camp will whip the national guard into shape and make it twice as powerful and effective in case it is necessary to use it.

At present the equipment of the guard, for the most part, is very poor. That is, it is not equipped on a war footing, ready for active field service such as it may be called upon to serve on short notice any time. Two machine gun companies in this state are pretty well equipped, except for machine guns. They have no machine guns. And the government is "all out." The U. S. government only had sixteen machine guns left itself after it had equipped the Mexican expedition and those sixteen were sent to the border to replace broken machines. Think what condition the government would be in if it were brought face to face with a real war. It is to be hoped, however, that an inexpensive lesson will be gained by the present Mexican trouble.

The members of the local company, Company G., of the Sixth Infantry, feel badly that they were left out of Adjutant General Dickson's plans to mobilize at Springfield, but have hopes that they will still have an opportunity to go.

FIRES AND WAR DEBTS.

The question is often asked: How can the European countries carry the burden of their war debts?

They can carry a considerable part of that burden by saving where the Americans waste. Take our fire waste, for example. In the last year for which figures are available, the American people paid $396,549,677 as fire insurance premiums. If our annual fire loss were held down by good construction and good laws to the standards of England, France and Germany we could save at least $300,000,000 in premiums each year—enough to pay 5 per cent interest on a debt of $6,000,000.

It should be borne in mind, too, that premiums do not represent our total fire cost. There are heavy uninsured losses every week and the expense of maintaining fire departments which can afford protection under the conditions which prevail in American cities is not light.—Chicago Journal.

POOR MOOSE!

The Moose will support Hughes. The Moose will support Wilson. The Moose will nominate a true blue progressive. (Most progressives are true blue these days). The Moose will continue the Moose will debase. Of all sad words of man or goose, the saddest are these: "I am a Moose." It is not better to have fought and lost than never to have fought at all. But having been in error, the way out seems to ordinary minds today just about the simplest thing in the world. Probably most of the Post Party will see it and take it.—N. Y. Sun.

DISCUSS ICE CREAM RATES

Express Companies Want Them Boosted; Manufacturers Cut.

Springfield, Ill., June 20.—The traffic managers of the Adams, American and Wells-Fargo Express Companies and twenty-five manufacturers from various parts of the state appeared before the state public utilities commission here in a hearing regarding rates on ice cream.

The commission fixed the minimum rate some time ago at 45 cents per 100 pounds to any point in the state with ten cents for return of empties. The interstate commerce shipments rate is 49 cents minimum and 15 cents back for empties. The express companies want this rate while the manufacturers want the rate lowered to 20 or 22 cents minimum with no return for empties.

GUARDSMEN TO STAY IN REGULARS' RANKS

President Issues Order Holding Men in Nation's Service.

Chicago, June 20.—No National Guardsmen, officer or private, can be relieved of service during the life of his present commission or enlistment except by order of the president, according to a change in the army regulations made by the war department as the nation's militia was preparing to be sworn into the federal service.

A telegram was received by Major General Thomas H. Barry, commander of the central department of the army at Chicago to that effect.

This means, for instance, that a member of the Illinois National Guard who has served one year of his three-year enlistment must remain a soldier in the regular army for the next two years, unless the president issues special orders to the contrary.

SAXON SIX

A big touring car for five people.

5000 Spectators See Saxon "Six" Win Against Higher-priced Cars at San Diego Exposition

Before 5000 enthusiastic spectators a stock Saxon "Six" captured two firsts and a third place, and won the most points in the demonstration contest just held at the San Diego Exposition Motor Demonstration Show. Although exceeded in both power and number of cylinders by higher-priced entries, the Saxon was the only car which won the trophy in two events. The performance of the Saxon was so convincing that a spectator bought and paid for the victorious "Six" on the Exposition Grounds and, without waiting to get it cleaned up, drove the winning car home.

The hill climb, which the Saxon won, was one of the most grueling ever staged. Contestants in this event were required to drive down the fifty-five per cent grade of Exposition hill and up the thirty-five per cent pitch. Then the drivers were obliged to turn around and reverse the order of descending and climbing. The Saxon not only made the best time, but was one of the few cars able to reach the top of the fifty-five per cent grade.

More expensive cars were defeated by the Saxon in the relay race. The Saxon romped around the track in fast time, winning the award of the judges, the applause of the assembly and five additional points.

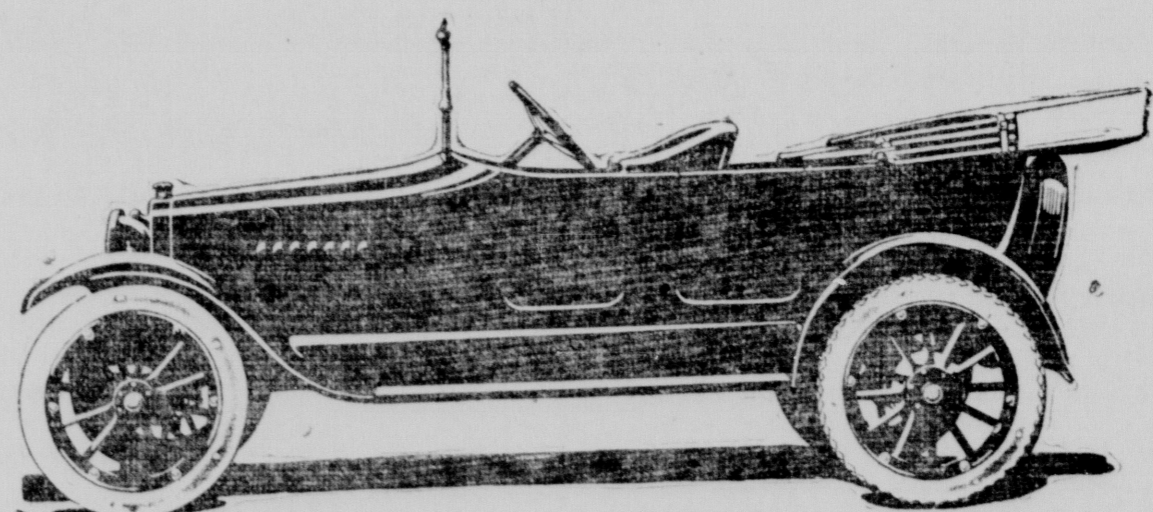

Then, just to demonstrate its flexibility in the quick "get-away" event, the Saxon won an even break with a higher-priced machine for third. The time of one twelve-cylinder and two eight-cylinder cars was bettered by the Saxon.

Probably no stock car has ever given a better demonstration than the Saxon gave at the San Diego Exposition—First in the hill climbing, proving ample power; second in the relay, showing high speed, and third in the quick get-away, completing the remarkable showing of the car.

Let us arrange a demonstration at your convenience. Saxon "Six" $815, f. o. b. Detroit.

The above is an Associated Press report of the San Diego Exposition, and the performance of the Saxon "Six"

GARRICK—CHICAGO.

"Nothing but the Truth," the big farce success of the season, has settled down at the Garrick for an all-summer run. H. H. Frazee makes this production and he has engaged a mighty efficient cast of players to present this play. This is the farce that James Montgomery made from a novel of the same name. It is in three acts, and the story is woven around a young broker who makes a sizable bet with his partner that he can tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth for 24 hours.

Ned Bennett is this hero's name and this role in "Nothing But the Truth" is admirably acted by Will Deming, an old Chicago favorite. Mr. Deming will be remembered as the principal player in another great farce which had a long Chicago run, "It Pays to Advertise." He loses no opportunity for fun-making in this new part, and his work in this farce will undoubtedly add to his reputation as an actor.

In addition to these players mentioned who appear in this farce beauty as well as artistry is well represented in Marie Carroll, Ione Bright, Mary Harper, Nena Blake and Beatrice Clevenger. They all do their full share in helping along this very funny play. While "Nothing But the Truth" remains at the Garrick, summer prices will prevail. Evening and Saturday matinee prices will be from 50 cents to $1.50, but the best seats at the Wednesday matinee will be only $1.

PRINCESS—CHICAGO

"Mr. Lazarus" the new comedy by Harvey O'Higgins and Harriet Ford, with Henry E. Dixey as the star, will have its first metropolitan hearing at the Princess theatre Tuesday night, June 20th.

Not only will "Mr. Lazarus" bring "Adonis" Dixey to the field of comedy in which he has done some of his most delightful work, but it will challenge interest and curiosity on its own account as the latest production of these successful playwrights, Mr. O'Higgins and Miss Ford, who have to their credit already "The Argyle Case," "The Dummy" and "Polygamy." The play is said to be just such a piece of whimsical humor and mystery as will supply an idea vehicle for Dixey in the title role of the western miner returned "as from the dead," and a trifle uncertain of his identity, while the heart of the plot is a romance of young love, full of charm and ardor.

SPORTING NOTES

Detroit: "Wild Bill" Donovan, of the New York Americans, who had his team here recently, said he may recall Pitcher Urban Shocker, now with Toronto. Shocker is a Detroit boy. Donovan is not particularly pleased over frequency with which Toronto is using Shocker. The latter has been pitching effectively, but Donovan said he fears he may be overworked.

East Lansing, Mich.: M. A. C. may not meet the Oregon Aggies on the local gridiron next autumn. It is understood that the Pacific coast college is averse to making the long trip and the local athletes do not care to go west this season.

Detroit: Manager Hugh Jennings has been amused at the numerous newspaper articles which referred to the Detroit Americans as an easy team for a left-hand pitcher to beat. Jennings merely mentioning the fact that Detroit's regular line-up includes but two left-hand batters—Cobb and Veach—when a southpaw is working and neither of these gentlemen fears left-handers.

Ann Arbor: The University of Michigan baseball team will have several promising youngsters fighting for positions next spring. Michigan had a great freshman team this season—Catcher Morrison, First Baseman Adams and Pitchers Glenn, Parks and Turner are considered varsity material.

Enjoy Special Treat

Following the regular meeting of the Odd Fellows last evening at their hall, they were invited by a committee of ladies from the Rebekah lodge to partake of an especial treat, a luncheon of strawberry shortcake, coffee, etc., which had been prepared in the banquet hall. The berries had been donated by A. E. Sinclair and the shortcake made by the young ladies, and the combined product was most thoroughly enjoyed.

Jesse Dysart was in Dixon Monday.

A DELEGATION OF WOMEN.

They were intensely interested when they recently visited the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and saw the extreme cleanliness and purity which prevail in the preparation and storing of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as well as of her other medicines. An hour is required to go through so large an establishment. One thing which struck the visitors was the great number of files containing the letters of women who told how much the famous Compound had done for them. Only part of them are published, and no letter is ever published without the writer's permission.

President Asks Congress Authority on Militia.

HAY PROMISES PROMPT ACTION

Carrazza Adds to Tension of Crisis by Demanding That Warships Not Land Men — Congressional Step Gives Situation Aspect of War, Law Makers Agree.

Hay Reassures Baker.

The war department legal experts were not exactly clear as to the terms of the proposed resolution, but it will be drawn in the war department and submitted to Chairman Hay for introduction. Chairman Hay said such a measure would meet with practically no opposition, although various members of congress took the view that such a resolution would precipitate the Mexican crisis, because the Mexican people would look upon it as tantamount to a declaration of war. This view of the situation was laid before Secretary Baker by the congressional leaders. They declared they were confident that under the law the president has ample authority to order the militia into Mexico. They said a militia expedition to Mexico City itself could be dispatched on the ground that it was ordered into Mexico to "repel invasion." Secretary Baker assured them that the administration had reviewed this phase of the situation, and was satisfied that the passage of such a resolution would have no ill effect on the situation now confronting the United States in Mexico.

Support For Move.

Representative Hay stated that if the question arose on the floor he would present the views of the war department rather than his own personal views.

"The administration desires that we should make it clear beyond all possibility of doubt," he said, "that the militia organizations now called out by the president are completely under his authority for use either within the United States or beyond its territorial limits. Personally, I do not believe the action is necessary, but there is no doubt that if the president wants such authority it will be given him fully and freely."

Representative Hay said that for policing the border and sending an adequate force into Mexico to deal with the situation, he felt confident that 150,000 volunteers would be necessary in addition to the militia organizations already allied.

WANT 23,000 IN I. N. G.

Chicago, June 20.—Immediate steps will be taken to bring the enlistment of the Illinois National Guard up to 23,000 men.

This was the declaration of officers of the state forces when they learned of the president's order calling out all for border duty. The figure represents Illinois' war quota under the new Chamberlain army bill.

"When the order to mobilize comes," said Colonel Henry Barrett Chamberlain, inspector general of the state forces, at his summer home in Benton Harbor, "steps will be taken at once to bring the enlistment of the Illinois guard up to the war footing of 23,000, as provided in the new law."

"Arrangements to reach this enlistment figure already have been discussed, and if there is a call for service plans will be put into effect immediately."

"As the situation stands, there are approximately 7,000 men in the Illinois National Guard, the normal peace footing. The men are fully equipped and the equipment is in such good condition that they can get into motion almost immediately. "I believe that the men will welcome the word to move. I remember the spirit in which they responded in '98, and do not believe there has been any change in sentiment."

Roses and mock orange blossoms will carry out the color scheme of green and white in the house decorations.

With our deliveries. On the Whole, our delivery service is as good as that in any large city.

The best schedules, however, are subject to conditions beyond human control. Our wagons are occasionally late, just as the railroad limited sometime gets behind time.

If you will see that your regular taking of ice is sufficient to cover all usual requirements, with something to spare for emergency, you'll never get into a state of mind because the wagon happens to be a trifle tardy.

This is easy if your refrigerator is large enough for your home. You will spend no more for ice—probably less.

MAKES DEVICE TO TREAT FRACTURES

May Be Used as Temporary Splint Instead of a Spica

A New York surgeon has recently perfected an apparatus designed to treat fractures to the lower limbs as soon as possible after they have occurred. The apparatus is especially intended to meet emergencies and complicated conditions.

It may be employed in fractures, gunshot wounds, luxations and dislocations. It may serve as a temporary splint instead of a spica, or again it may be employed as a permanent splint, depending upon the advisability of recumbent and ambulatory treatment.

The device consists essentially of two flat steel bars attached to their lower ends to a rectangular foot plate. To the external rod are riveted a series of from twelve to fifteen thin aluminum bands which are curved to fit any lower limb around which they may be placed. The bands are fitted with straps so that they may be tightly held in place.

By turning the bands 180 degrees the apparatus may be placed on the other limb. An ingenious foot arrangement enables the patient using such a device to exert a tractive effort to a considerable degree without pain. The entire device weighs but eight pounds.

Briefly the advantages of the new device may be summarized as follows: The limb is held in absolute immobilization, redression and traction; ambulatory treatment is possible; observation of callus, dressing, drainage, massage and electrical treatment are possible without removing the splint or lessening the traction; the apparatus is light and compact and can easily be made a part of any ambulance equipment; very little skill is necessary to apply it; practically in post-operative treatment instead of spicas, and lastly, it does not interfere with X-ray examinations.

DOCTOR INVENTS SPLINT PADS

Adjustable Device Holds Broken Bones Together

A patented device for holding broken bones together after they have been set, the invention of a New Hampshire surgeon, consists of spaced metal concave splint pads having upstanding arms. The arms are adjustable to the desired distance by means of two shafts extending between the upstanding arms. One of the shafts is exteriorly threaded. The other is an interiorly threaded tube. Similar concave pads are placed on each side of the broken limbs, so as to cooperate.

A plaster cast is first made around the pads and over them. Then the tube and threaded shaft are put in place between the upstanding arms of the splint pads. The pads are adjusted by the rotation of the threaded tube until the proper tension has been obtained to prevent the muscles from drawing the bone back or allowing the bone to slip out of place. By this device bones which are not in perfect alignment can be drawn into alignment. Bandaging is said to be unnecessary.

An important advantage of this device is that it may be applied to a broken collarbone or rib as well as to a broken leg or arm.

ADOPT ELECTRIC SIGNAL

Railway Heads Use Lights to Imitate Semaphore Positions

Semaphores are done away with and the standard semaphore indications are given by white electric lights mounted on a black background in a new system of block signals now being installed on the Pennsylvania railroad. The lights are so arranged on the board that the three positions of a semaphore arm, horizontal, diagonal, and vertical, are imitated by the rows of lights, and these signals are used by day as well as by night.

Two boards corresponding to two semaphore arms, are used for each track, the upper board constituting the stop signal and the lower board the cautionary signal. When a train enters the block the horizontal row of lights on each board is lighted, giving the stop signal to any following train. When the train passes out of the block, which is 3,500 feet long, the horizontal row on the upper board is extinguished and the diagonal row lighted.—Popular Mechanics.

IT MAKES BODY TRANSPARENT

Fluid Discovered Which Oblivates Dissecting Knife

A new method of giving medical students instructions, which it is said, will largely obviate the necessity of dissection, will be put into practice in a New York medical college at the beginning of the next term.

Physicians and surgeons connected with the department of anatomy are now perfecting the process, which originates thru the recent discovery by a French scientist of a fluid by the use of which the human body can be rendered transparent.

The fluid, which is composed of several oils turns the flesh into a sort of transparent jelly when injected, enabling the students to study the veins, muscles and bones far better it is asserted, than if they resorted to the dissecting knife. It is said to be one of the most valuable discoveries in medical science of late years.

Carrots must be fed sparingly to working horses. Cut them in slices. They are a laxative, and effect the kidneys also.

RUSS TRAP BIG AUSTRIAN ARMY

General Pflanzer's Forces Are Facing Serious Peril.

ONLY FLIGHT CAN SAVE THEM

Slavs Are Now Marching Toward Lemberg—Germany Officially Admits That Russ Offensive at Kovel Was Only Partially Halted—Tageblatt Prepares Public for New Retirement.

Petrograd, June 20.—Eighty thousand Austrians, cornered by cossacks in the lower reaches of the Carpathians face immediate capture unless they make a precipitate retreat, according to dispatches received here. The force was trapped by the Russians as a result of the fall of Czernowitz.

It is possible that this force is a portion or all of General Pflanzer's army, which according to other dispatches, has been isolated after being forced to retire from Czernowitz.

Part of this army retired westward toward Kolomea and Kutly and the remainder southward in the direction of Dornavatra, telegraphs Reuter's Petrograd correspondent.

Berlin Admits Russ Not Halted.

Berlin, June 20.—Admission that the Russians in their offensive opposite the railroad center of Kovel are making progress is made in the official statement of the war office. The statement declares General Linsingen's forces defending this portion of the line have only "partly repulsed" the Russian attacks.

Germans 17 Years Old Called.

London, June 20.—Dispatches from Berlin quote the Lokal Anzeiger as announcing that Germans seventeen years old have been called to the colors.

Prepare Teutons for Bad News.

London, June 20.—Heavy fighting between the Russians advancing toward Kovel and the Germans under General von Linsingen is reported by the Berlin Tageblatt's correspondent at Austrian headquarters, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

The Russians are in superior numbers, and the dispatch asserts that the Tageblatt account of the fighting is worded so as to prepare Berlin for the news of another Teutonic retreat.

The Tageblatt says that the Austrians have taken up fresh positions between Czernowitz and the Danube, where they are awaiting further Russian attacks. In the middle Stripa sector, on the direct line to Lemberg, the German general Count von Bothmer, is reported to be maintaining his resistance against heavy pressure by the Russians.

Italians on the Offensive.

Berlin, June 20.—Italian troops are on the offensive in many sections of the front, but are being held in check by the Austrians, the official statement issued in Vienna says.

Earl Longford Is Killed.

London, June 20.—It is announced officially that Brigadier-General Earl Longford, previously reported wounded and missing, has been killed on the Gallipoli peninsula.

CORROBORATION

Of Interest to Dixon Readers

For months Dixon citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills by Dixon residents. Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proven reliable? Would they confirm their statements after year had elapsed if personal experience had not shown the remedy to be worthy of endorsement? The following statement should carry conviction to the mind of every Dixon reader.

B. A. Worley, blacksmith, 209 Ave., Dixon, says: "The action of my kidneys was irregular and annoying and my back ached after using Doan's Kidney Pills, the pains left my back and my kidneys became regular in action." (Statement given May 21, 1912.)

OVER TWO YEARS LATER, Mr. Worley said: "Whenever my back gets lame and sore and I need a kidney medicine, I use Doan's Kidney Pills. They give me relief."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Worley has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

DUTIES OF MODERN GENERAL MANY

THERE'S NO LIMIT TO THE NUMBER OF THINGS PRESENT-DAY LEADER MUST KNOW

He Needs Knowledge of Surgery, Tactics and Engineers' Work

When the man in the street talks of a general commanding an army, he generally sums him up as a "jolly good soldier," and fancies he has said all that need be said about the distinguished officer.

As a matter of dry fact, he has said nothing at all about the general. What the man in the street means by "jolly good soldier" means very little to the general, for to be a good soldier, i. e., to lead armed men, is about the last thing necessary to a modern commander.

He has to be, of course, an expert in military methods in strategy, which means the art of handling forces at a distance from the enemy, and tactics, which means the art of handling that force when in actual touch with the enemy, and he must know military routine from A to Z. But that is only the cap of his knowledge.

For instance, he must know quite a lot about the comparative values of food, not only because he must keep his army well fed, but because he has to carry with him the minimum quantity to keep his moving army in a state of efficiency. He has to know how many horses can pull how many wagons of this food, and how many miles they can pull them. He has even to compute how much forage those horses will require, and what will be their daily rate of progress.

In the same way he is a cartage expert, who knows that it is not how much ammunition his army can fire off, but how much ammunition it can carry that counts in the actual battle, and he must know which will be the easiest circumstances of its carriage. Thus, if he is to assault fortifications, he will not carry shrapnel, which is of great use against advancing infantry, but avails little against concrete bastions; and if he is to face off attacking army divisions, he will not trouble himself much with high explosive shell, which is used mainly against fortifications.

He must also know about the endurance limit of every regiment he employs, recognizing which regiment can stand the hard grind of heavy marching, which will remain stubborn under the most terrible bombardment and which can be used with electric dash at the decisive moment of a charge.

He must know how to handle his artillery like a master, not only as a death dealing, defense shattering instrument, but also in its effect as a means of destroying the nerve of the men opposing him. A terrific and well handled bombardment at the right moment may do more to win the fight for him than a whole day's shelling.

All this is knowledge bearing immediately on battles. He must possess an immense amount of varied knowledge that will enable him to take his army to the pinch of its efficiency into battle.

To this end he has to know something about surveying, engineering, bridge building, road making, railroad laying, telegraphy, fortifications, mining, the manufacture and application of high power explosive, trench turning, sanitation, camp, town and barrack planning, plumbing, cooking, camp range making, store keeping, ballooning, aeroplaning, rough medicine, first aid, rough surgery, veterinary, farriery, smith work, lathe turning, small arm making, field gun repairing and a host of other crafts and industries. He has experts to help him, naturally, but he must know something of these things if he is to guide and take advantage of experts.

And when he has fought his battles, and defeated his foe, he must be an expert in both military and international law, and he must be a good disciplinarian and a good diplomat, too, for he has not only to restrain his own soldiery, but he has to see that he and his country are not overreached by the diplomatic skill of their adversary.

And above all, he has to be a human individual, and not a highly skilled machine, so as to overcome the human element in the composition of his enemy, no less than the humane in victory.—London Answers.

GUNFEATHER A NEW EXPLOSIVE

Said to Be Quite as Powerful as Gun cotton

Feathers, says a San Francisco druggist and inventor, are as good as cotton for making nitric explosives. The druggist says he has just perfected a form of "gunfeather" as powerful as gun cotton.

The discovery makes the life of the goose more hazardous. Now he may become food for cannon as well as food for humans or a producer of goose grease. Even the "old gray goose" may become valuable.

The druggist inventor claims to have tested four ounces of his new explosive and it blew a hole in the ground that an equal amount of gun cotton could not have done. He plans to perfect his invention and then offer it to the United States Army.

President Tells Why Troops Will Remain.

PERSHING KEEPS AFTER THEM

General Refuses to Halt His Bandit Chase—Report Made on Trouble at Mazatlan—Mexican Story Says Jap Started It—One U. S. Boatswain Gravely Wounded.

Columbus, N. M., June 20.—General J. J. Pershing, American expeditionary commander, has cavalry detachments operating south and west of the Namiquipa base in pursuit of bands of Mexican marauders, according to several apparently reliable reports here.

It was asserted that General Pershing received reports of the presence of the bandits almost simultaneously with General Jacinto Trevino's warning that any movement of the American troops other than toward the border would be considered a hostile act.

Pending advices from General Funston, it is said, he gave no orders to give chase until late Sunday.

Washington, June 20.—The appearance of the American mailed fist in the Mexican situation, with President Wilson's call for the mobilization of 100,000 National Guardsmen of all states for service on the border, was followed quickly by developments of a warlike nature. Chief of these were: The American reply to Carranza's last note on withdrawal of the United States forces was finished and was en route to the de facto government before night.

10,000 Words in Reply.

In clear, unmistakable language, the note declines to withdraw the American forces and answers Carranza's misstatements of fact and points to many incidents which make it imperative that the Pershing expedition remain. The message is 10,000 words or more.

Unofficial reports from Yucatan said all Americans had been warned to leave there, as a state of war existed, and that refugees were being taken on board a warship.

Put New Law into Effect.

Secretary Baker took steps to obtain from congress leave to put in effect at once a provision of the new army law, which ordinarily would go into operation on July 1, to permit the sending of militia forces into a foreign land. This was described officially as a precautionary measure.

Tells of Mazatlan.
The embassy communications have brought the Washington government its first news of trouble at Mazatlan, latest radio advices from Admiral Winslow on the Pacific coast making no mention of it.

According to the Mexican version, confusion followed an attempt to land marines from a warship, there was an exchange of shots and two American officers were arrested and held until explanations had been made. The embassy presented a report from the military commander at Mazatlan, General Mazto, telling of the incident, accompanied by instructions from the Mexico City foreign office urging that the Americans be kept aboard their ships.

General Mazto's report said the men landed at Mazatlan were marines, but as the gunboat Annapolis, the only ship known to be there, has no marines, it is presumed that bluejackets were involved.

Japanese Starts Fight.

The Mazto report told this story: A boat from the warship approached a Mazatlan wharf and was warned to keep off until permission to land could be obtained from the military authorities. It went back to the ship and several hours later returned with its crew armed. The officer in command was told permission for landing had not been given and an argument ensued. A crowd of soldiers and civilians had gathered on the wharf and in the midst of the discussion a drunken Japanese fired a shot at the Americans, who promptly replied with a volley into the crowd.

Carranza soldiers returned the fire and the boat withdrew, leaving behind two officers who were arrested. Explanations then were exchanged by the commander of the warship and the Carranza general and the American officers were released.

Boatswain Wounded.

Washington, June 20.—Admiral Winslow, at San Diego, reporting on the clash between American seamen and Carranza soldiers at Mazatlan Sunday, said Boatswain's Mate L. M. Llaughter was gravely wounded and Ensign O. O. Kessing and Assistant Paymaster Andrew Rowat were taken prisoners by the Mexicans. The admiral made no mention of the subsequent release of the officers, as announced to the state department by the Mexican embassy.

Order Americans Prisoners.

Guaymas, Mex., June 20.—According to reports, Mexican authorities have ordered all able-bodied Americans taken prisoners and intend to disarm all foreigners in the Yaqui valley.

Consul Johnson Quits Matamoros.
Brownsville, Tex., June 20.—United States Consul J. H. Johnson arrived here from Matamoros and announced that he had received orders from the state department at Washington to quit Mexico. Matamoros expects to be attacked by the United States, Consul Johnson said.
